

I think a national level telephone privacy regulation would be great to have. The telephone privacy law in Indiana has worked well. It is very beneficial to my family, since it has stopped a great number of annoying telephone solicitations from interrupting our lives. You would do well to model a regulation after the Telephone Privacy Act in Indiana. PLEASE DO NOT CREATE A REGULATION THAT WOULD LESSEN MY TELEPHONE PRIVACY. If you do not want to have a national regulation that is as restrictive as the Telephone Privacy Act of Indiana, DO NOT supercede state laws that are more restrictive. I encourage you to use this opportunity to INCREASE MY TELEPHONE PRIVACY. I would like to be protected from people taking "opinion polls" of the nature of "do you like this product" and "would you like to buy this product." Also, I don't want to receive calls from anyone that I have done business with on an interstate level, unless I actively give them permission to call (as opposed to their having permission unless I object).

By the way, I sent a comment the other day, and did not see it in your data base. I apologize if this is a duplicate submission. If that is the case, this comment supercedes the previous one.
